Only one in five businesses put up for sale will find a buyer. How do you improve your chances?

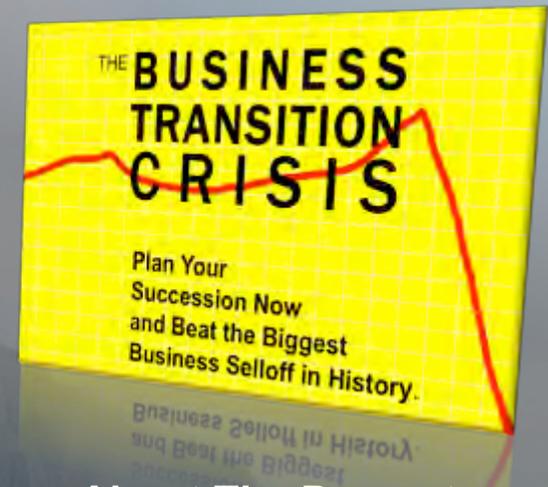

50% of owners would retire today if they could. But they can't because they don't have a plan.

If you don't take responsibility for the successful transition of your business, who do you think will?

Imagine you lived and worked in Japan five years ago and knew with certainty that there would be an earthquake and tsunami in 2011. Imagine you knew it would devastate the region with ripple effects to the whole country and beyond, what would you do differently?

There is a tsunami heading for the North American economy. It's the Business Transition Crisis created by millions of baby boomer entrepreneurs. Most business owners are avoiding the issue at their peril. You can choose to get ahead of the curve.

Preparation, specific goals and action steps in the direction of your choice trumps wishful thinking every day. Don't know where to start? Take the first step by attending this seminar!
